

C2 – Children living in low income and material deprivation

Baseline and Trends: Baseline year – 2004/05. The proportion of children in low income and material deprivation is similar in 2007/08 to that in 2004/05 for each type of family. Children in families where no-one is disabled have the lowest risk of being in low income and material deprivation. Children in families with any disabled member have higher risks of being in low income and material deprivation than children in families where no one is disabled.

Children living in low income and material deprivation before housing costs

Definition: People with disabilities are defined as respondents who report a limiting long standing illness, impairment or disability. Everyone in this group would meet the definition of disability in the Disability Discrimination Act (DDA); however, these estimates do not reflect the total number of people covered by the DDA as the FRS does not collect this information. Data is for United Kingdom. A child is considered to be in low income and material deprivation if they live in a family that has a material deprivation score of 25 or more and a household income below 70 per cent contemporary median income, Before Housing Costs, see HBAI for further details.
